BUSY SIGNAL'S GOOD RACE

Wins Historic Jerome Handicap and Beats On Watch.

Enfilade in Good Form Again and an Easy Winner—Belmont Park Track Gossip.

NEW YORK, N. Y., September 9.—The Jerome Handicap at one mile, featuring the Belmont program of this afternoon, attracted a big mid-week crowd. Only four started in the Jerome, with G. W. Loft's colt On Watch ruling the favorite, E. R. Bradley's Busy Signal being the second choice. The latter was the medium of a heavy plunge at the close of operations and, getting off in front, won all the way, finishing two lengths in advance of Pilgrim, with On Watch a tired third. Busy Signal stood a hard drive all through the stretch. The pace caused Pilgrim to swerve out in the stretch, but On Watch was done, as he did not have enough speed at the time to take second place. It was a fast run mile and the filly is at her best.

The Bellair Handicap for mares and fillies brought nine to the post and the winner turned up in Enfilade, which closed as equal favorite with Wedding Cake. Elected II. was the early pacemaker, but she had enough when the field came around the stretch bend and gave way to Enfilade, which held her advantage to the finish. Lady Gertrude came from far back to take second place. Wedding Cake threatened at the sixteenth post, but she had been much used in following the leaders and tired in the closing strides. Tailor Maid, victim of a bad send off, came with a belated rush through the stretch and was going fastest of all at the end.

The opening dash for two-year-olds saw a head finish between Gilt Fringe and Wise Dove, with the favorite, Wedgwood, third. Wedgwood led her until fifty yards out, when Gilt Fringe came fast next to the rail and got up in time to head Wise Dove in the last stride. Wedgwood was a length back. Runmic showed speed in the early running, but tired near the finish. There was some activity shown among the oralizers about Jamaica Belle, but the Great Britain filly was outrun all the way.

OUR BOOTS AN EASY WINNER.

The second race, for maiden two-year-olds, proved easy for Our Boots, the heavily backed favorite. The Waterbury colt took the lead at once, set a fast pace and won under restraint by five lengths. Inglecrest, second choice, ran as if much the best of the others, taking second place easily with Cote d'Or third. Copper Demon ran a good race, coming from far back with a rush at the finish. L'Eclair showed some early speed, but ran a bit green and finished far in the ruck.

G. Peterson will divide his stable, sending a division, including George Bovee, John I. Day and Tan II., to Havre de Grace.

J. G. Wagnon, trainer of the Pelican stable, was at Belmont Park today consulting his employer, W. H. Rowe. After looking over part of the stable in Maryland, Wagnon will return to Blue Bonnets.

William Wallace, western trainer for the Xalapa Farm stable, brought the two-year-olds Debonaire, Vista, Edgar Allan Poe, Aida McGee and the three-year-old East Indian to Belmont Park yesterday. These horses will be campaigned on the metropolitan tracks for the remainder of the racing season.

It was reported at Belmont Park yesterday that the veteran trainer, William Heuston, will take up training duties for the W. S. Kilmer stable, following the resignation of Simon Healy. Mr. Heuston has been employed by Mr. Kilmer at his breeding farm for a number of years. He formerly trained for Miles Finlen, Mr. Ruppert and others.

Ten Point was received by The Jockey Club Bureau yesterday, as the gift of A. L. Aste. Ten Point is a grand looking individual, weighing 1,400 pounds and standing seventeen hands. He will be placed on Long Island.

Jockey Rodriguez left Belmont Park yesterday to ride for his contract employer, R. Parr, on the Maryland circuit.

T. W. O'Brien's colt Pluribus, winner of the Sanford Memorial Stakes at Saratoga, is reported in racing form again after being on the shelf for the past month. He probably will start during the Aqueduct meeting and later go to Havre de Grace, where he is engaged in the rich Eastern Shore Handicap.

DEBADOU RAN GREAT RACE ON FLAT; FORMER 'CHASER MAKES GOOD

Debadou's victory in the fourth race at Belmont Park Tuesday is another illustration of the fact that hurdlers and steeplechasers frequently return to the flat and show higher form than ever before. The mile in 1:37⅘ is as good a performance as the Broomstick gelding has ever been credited with, and Mrs. Whitney, who saw the race from a box, was all smiles after the finish. She was warmly congratulated by her friends over Debadou's showing. She bought him to make a jumper, but his performances through the field have been much below what was expected from any horse of his high turn of speed, and it was decided to put him back on the flat. In the race which Milkmaid and Fair Gain had such a spirited duel recently Debadou was the pacemaker for the first seven-eighths.

WHAT THE GREAT MAN O' WAR MISSES

S. D. Riddle's ambition to have Man o' War a winner of $200,000 this year would have been simplified had Mr. Belmont, breeder of the phenomenal horse, entered him in the $50,000 Latonia Championship Stakes, to be run this fall at Latonia. Neglect to enter him at the proper time deprives the colt from adding the immense prize to his already handsomely earned total.

Had Man o' War been entered in the Championship and well fit on the day it is run, the rich prize would have been at his mercy.

FAVORITE FOR THE FUTURITY

PRUDERY, QUEEN OF THE TWO-YEAR-OLD FILLIES OF THE YEAR, APPEARS A PROBABLE WINNER OF THE FAMOUS RACE

(By EXILE)

Prudery, queen of the two-year-old fillies of the year, is the popular favorite for the famous Futurity, to be run at Belmont Park Saturday. She was, without doubt, the best horse in the Hopeful Stakes, despite her defeat by Leonardo II., and, with riders reversed, would have won. She has no Leonardo II., nor Inchcape nor Tryster to meet in the Futurity, and unless some unknown star suddenly appears in the firmament this brilliant daughter of Peter Pan should carry off the rich prize. Prudery has won five out of seven races and $25,650. Victory in the Futurity would bring her total above $60,000 and place her second to Man o' War on the list of the money-winning horses of the year. She is a bay daughter of Peter Pan and Polly Flinders, by Burgomaster, and bred, as you may observe, Eclipse to Herod.

Peter Pan has during his stud life only attained to rather fluctuating success as a sire and, in my opinion, at least, the best has not yet been seen of him in this particular, for he is a wonderfully well-bred horse, especially on his dam's side, being from Von Tromp's dam Cinderella, by Hermit, and his granddam, Mazurka, by the Cambridgeshire winner See Saw, from Mabille, sister to the Grand Prix and Derby winner, Cremorne, by Parmesan, and this the Rigolboche by Rataplan branch of the Burton Barb family, from which also come The Tetrarch, Sea King, sire of the Kentucky Derby winner Paul Jones; the champion Argentine sire Pietermaritzburg; Clyde, winner of Prix de Diane, and any number of others almost as good.

Polly Flinders, dam of Prudery, as is the case with so many mares whose sons and daughters have attained to much turf distinction, achieved but slight success on the turf, winning but one race and this as a two-year-old, at Hamilton, Canada. Polly Flinders, however, is a really well-bred mare (and in breeding to a mare you breed to the blood and not to the individual), and is a daughter of that good son of Hamburg, Burgomaster, which unfortunately was sent south to Chile not so many years gone by. Burgomaster's dam, Hurley Burley, a good winner in her day, is by the Kentucky Derby winner Riley, and also bred Mineola, dam of the Saratoga Cup and Lawrence Realization winner Johren.

Slippers, granddam of Prudery, is by Meddler, which stood third to Rock Sand and Hanover on the winning brood mare sire list of 1919, and this year so far is first, twenty-four of his daughters having bred thirty-two winners of fifty-seven races of $38,726.

Opinions do not cut much figure in horse breeding. Fact is the only thing that really counts. Meddler is bred to be and is one of the best brood mare sires ever imported, and, besides, he also looks the part. Not only in this country, but also in France, are his daughters proving their worth as brood mares, for is not Mr. Macomber's recent good winner, Meddlesome Maid, from Meddler's daughter, Colonial Girl? Imported Cinderella, dam of Slippers, also bred Hastings, sire of Fair Play, Handsome, Glenheim, Plaudit, Ferrier, Foreigner and others, and Prudery, a member of the Moonah Barb No. 21 family, from which come also the Cup horse The White Knight, Dinneford, all the Bachelor tribe in Ireland, the Oaks winner Lonely, the Australian sire success Malster, imported Tranby, that good French horse Boiard, and Macaroni's sire, Sweetmeat.

There can be no doubt that bloodstock, as bred in this country, is now in every way superior to that which has done duty for so long. There is, however, still room for improvement, and this, too, will come, because of the fact that racing over a distance of ground is becoming more popular with each succeeding year, and breeding really tells best when racing over a distance of ground. Moreover, as announced in Daily Racing Form, it is Major Belmont's intention to institute a Belmont Park Cup, which will rival in importance the Cup run for on Ascot's classic heath.

SURPRISE IN THE ST. LEGER

Caligula, Owned by Indian Sportsman, Victor at Long Odds—Spion Kop, the Derby Winner, Runs Last.

LONDON, England, September 9.—The 1920 St. Leger, last of the five English classics of the year, furnished a great surprise when the Derby winner, Spion Kop, the favorite, finished last, and the outsider, Caligula, which was sold for a good price by Lord Wilton last Friday, won at odds of 100 to 6. It was a fine race and run before a record crowd, although the day was dull and the air full of mist. The winner is owned by an Indian sportsman, F. O. Golculdas, a Calcutta merchant.

Spion Kop was never dangerous, and when beaten was eased up. He was evidently not himself. There had been rumors about him for some time.

The race had fourteen starters, was truly run and Caligula, the winner, well placed and ridden throughout, took the lead a quarter of a mile from the finish and won gamely after resisting Silvern's pressing challenge.

The summary of the St. Leger was:

St. Leger Stakes of $32,500 to the winner, for entire three-year-olds, colts and fillies; $2,000 to second, $1,000 to third. St. Leger course, 1¾ miles 132 yards. Two hundred and eleven entries.

A. O. Golculdas' gr. c, Caligula, by The Tetrarch—Snoot, by Perigord, 126 (Smith), 100 to 6 1

Sir Edward Hulton's b. c, Silvern, by Polymelus—Silver Fowl, by Wildfowler, 126 (Templeman), 8 to 1 2

Lady James Douglas' b. c, Manton, by Bayardo—Jane Grey II., by Le Sancy, 126 (Lane), 33 to 1 3

J. Wilson's b. c, Braishfield, by Bayardo-Beaume, by St. Frusquin, 126 (Bullock), 10 to 1 4

Lord Wyfold's b. c, Black Gauntlet, by John o'Gaunt—Usaa, by Knight of Malta, 126 (H. Jones), 12 to 1 5

Time, 3:07. Fourteen ran. Won by a half length; three lengths between second and third.

ENGLISH YEARLINGS AT HIGH PRICES

LONDON, England, September 9.—The second day's Doncaster sales were remarkable for prices. Though there were no new buyers, the market was extremely buoyant. Seventy-nine yearlings were sold Wednesday with an average of $3,920. The aggregate was $63,500 in advance of the same day last year. The best sales of the day were:

Colt, by Sunstar—Miss Matty, by Marcovil; Lord Stanley, $25,500.

Colt, by Roi Herode—Santee, by Santoi; Sir J. White, $22,500.

Colt, by William Rufus—Star of Eve, by Star of Hanover; C. Whinnery, $15,500.

Colt, by Sunstar—Desdesheimer, by Desmond; Herman Holdge, $15,000.

KING'S PLATE TO ACONI

Ross Colt Scores Hollow Victory in Opening Day Feature.

Steeplechase Thriller—Satisfactory Compromise Reached in Matter of Increased Purses.

MONTREAL, Quebec, September 9.—Featured by the thirteenth renewal of the King's Plate, the Montreal Jockey Club threw open its gates for the fall meeting this afternoon. The running of the Plate resulted in a hollow victory for Commander J. K. L. Ross when his four-year-old Aconi galloped home an easy winner. Back of him and driving hard for second place came Mouette and All Amiss. There was a slight delay at the barrier, due to the fractiousness of Laurentian. When the field was dispatched Mouette elected to set the pace, while Nolan was content to follow with Aconi. At the far turn he went to the front and from there on left no doubt as to the outcome. Aconi was an overwhelmingly strong favorite and his victory was immensely popular.

Ideal racing weather prevailed and a large-sized attendance journeyed to the course to witness the running of the opening day card. Despite the small size of the fields, spirited racing prevailed and the form backers had a profitable day.

A thrilling contest resulted from the running of the steeplechase. The winner turned up in Smithfield, with Old Bill Bender second. Decathlon ran out of the course at the tenth fence and upset his rider going to the twelfth. The horse was remounted by a stable assistant and finished. H. Williams lodged a claim of foul against the winner. Borgan carried him wide all the way. The claim was not allowed.

Francis Nelson today denied trainer Walsh the privilege of saddling All Amiss in the running of the Plate. Trainer Walsh and jockey J. Smith were suspended by the stewards at the recent Kempton Park meeting for inconsistent running of the plater Red Post.

Steeplechase jockey N. Brooks, while schooling one of trainer Healy's jumpers through the field, fell and sustained a fractured collar bone.

Francis Nelson, representing the Canadian Racing Associations, granted the following temporary licenses: Trainers, W. Devonshire, M. J. Ayer, D. Buchanan, C. Koerner, L. H. Tyron, J. J. Feeney and S. Veitch.

The following jockeys were also granted temporary licenses: J. H. Glass, H. Williams, Si Veitch, Jr., F. Preece, B. Haynes and C. Eames.

George Hay of the Ontario Jockey Club was an arrival this morning from Toronto in the interest of the steeplechases to be run at the Woodbine course. Mr. Hay is making arrangements for the shipment of the timber toppers to that point at the conclusion of the present Blue Bonnets meeting.

At a conference between the horsemen and Commander J. K. L. Ross as a director of The Jockey Club the horsemen's request for an increase in the monetary value of the purses was amicably settled. The agreement reached was that the purses as published in the condition book be continued, and in the event the first three days' racing being successful the request for $1,200 purses would be complied with.

T. J. Elward was an arrival this morning from Saratoga Springs with two two-year-olds.

Three carloads arrived this morning from Ottawa bringing the remainder of thoroughbreds that raced at the Connaught Park meeting.

Starter Harry Morrissey, who replaces J. Milton on the Canadian circuit, arrived this morning. Mr. Morrissey came from Reno, and previous to leaving made arrangements with one of his assistants, H. Gilmore, to finish out the meeting at the Nevada capital. J. Donovan and E. Thomas accompanied Mr. Morrissey as assistants.

Mr. Mortimer Mahoney, in charge of the mutuel department, was an arrival this morning from Baltimore.

LAUREL'S LIBERAL PROGRAM

Over $300,000 in Added Money to Be Distributed During Twenty-six Days of Racing in October.

The program book of the Maryland Fair Association for the twenty-six days of racing to be held at Laurel from October 1 to October 30 is now out and promises some excellent sport. It is as liberal a program as offered anywhere, providing for a distribution of $317,500 in added money.

There are three stakes of $10,000 added value; five fixtures are $5,000 added and a steeplechase for three-year-olds, known as the Ticket of Leave, has an added value of $3,000. No overnight purse has a smaller value than $1,000 added, while several are of $2,500 added. One of the $5,000 stakes is the Chevy Chase Steeplechase, while the $10,000 stakes are the Annapolis Handicap, at one mile and a half; Maryland Handicap, for three-year-olds, at a mile and a qurter, and the Laurel, for all ages, at a mile. It is announced that the races will begin each day at 1:45 o'clock, with seven races daily.

S. C. HILDRETH'S ILL LUCK CONTINUES

S. C. Hildreth's bad luck continues. The loss Tuesday of the big, fine two-year-old brother to Hourless was a hard blow. The colt was galloping slowly with a bunch of yearlings when he fell and broke his shoulder and had to be destroyed. Hildreth says the colt resembled Hourless much, and while he had not done enough with him, he had all the earmarks of developing into a good horse. He was an unusually large colt, standing almost seventeen hands high, and was one of the lot sold by Major Belmont to Edward F. Simms and J. W. McClelland. The colt was bought from these gentlemen by Messrs. Hildreth and Sinclair.

GENERAL UNIFORMITY OF RACING

FORTY PER CENT OF FAVORITES WIN ANNUALLY---FIRST CHOICES MORE SUCCESSFUL ON EASTERN THAN ON WESTERN TRACKS

Statistics show that about forty per cent of first choices win annually. Thus in 1917, the small tracks around Baltimore not counted, the percentage was .41, while in 1918 it was .40, making the average of .40½ for the two years. Some tracks show high percentages each year, others much lower, the difference being attributed to varying configuration and widths of the tracks in the main. The figures for the last four years show that favorites succeed oftener on eastern than on western tracks. The Jamaica track always shows a high average of winning favorites, as also do Aqueduct, Belmont Park, Laurel and Saratoga. Empire City is more variable, as its .46 in 1917 and its .39 in 1918 illustrate. Pimlico is a bad track for favorites, its percentage for the two years being low at .33. Of the Kentucky tracks Lexington makes the best showing with .40 in 1917 and .46 in 1918, or .43 for the two years. For the same two years Latonia shows .38½, Douglas Park .38 and Churchill Downs .36½, all below normal, with Churchill Downs' poor showing due to its low percentage of .32 in 1917. New Orleans racing of the two years is close to the normal mark at .39½. Havre de Grace makes a good showing. In connection with this year's racing the percentage of winning favorites is on a par with the preceding years despite the greatly increased number of races. The figures for the various tracks make an interesting study and are as follows:

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF

J. Flannigan, former trainer for James Butler, is owner and trainer of Royal Greens.

The horses of John Sanford have arrived at Belmont Park, being among the later comers from Saratoga.

All the crack three-year-olds in the Whitney stable have extensive stake engagements for both the Kentucky and Maryland fall meetings.

Sir Barton and Boniface are named in all the principal stakes for horses of the older division to be run in Kentucky during the coming fall meetings.

Frigate appears the best two-year-old shown by Frizzle thus far this year. His dam, Kaskaskia, a daughter of Yankee and Kiamesha, was also a good winner under the colors of the Oneck stable.

The officials for the Dufferin Park meeting, which opened yesterday, are: Ed Cole, P. Calan and W. R. Norvell, judges; E. Allen, paddock judge; Frank McGinty, starter.

M. Hirsch, owner of Grey Lag, winner of the first race Wednesday at Belmont Park has decided to take the colt to England next year to fill his engagement in the Epsom Derby.

The steeplechase course at Havre de Grace has been changed to conform with the rules of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association and the management will offer a number of cross-country races if these contests fill.

WINNER OF FIRST FUTURITY

Story of Proctor Knott and How He Enriched Sam Bryant.

Bought City Block with Winnings—Gelding Could Always Beat the Great Salvator.

The Futurity, greatest and most famous of all American two-year-old races, is to be run Saturday, September 11, at Belmont Park.

What memories the running of the Futurity can recall to the older generation of turfmen!

Probably there will be but few on hand this year to see it decided that saw Proctor Knott, Sam Bryant's big, long-legged, blazed face, white-stockinged gelding, come down in front of Salvator by half a length at its first running back in 1888. Proctor Knott was no mean two-year-old and his Kentucky owner doted on him as he did his own flesh and blood. Proctor Knott was named for a Kentucky governor, who, while a member of the United States house of representatives, made the city of Duluth famous in a satirical oration.

Proctor Knott was bred right, coming from the American family established by Bonnie Scotland, which has been about the only one to stand the wear and tear of years and still retain its potency. Proctor Knott's sire was Luke Blackburn, he by Bonnie Scotland. His dam was Tallapoosa, by the English horse Great Tom. Sam Bryant attended the sales at Belle Meade Farm, near Nashville, in the summer of 1887 and brought back to Louisville, his home, a gawky yearling which he named Proctor Knott. The yearling cost Bryant $175. Sam Bryant was a master hand with a thoroughbred, and he predicted that Proctor Knott would be a runner. At the same sale he bought another yearling, Come-to-Taw, by Long Tom—Mollie Seabrook, which was no mean shakes of a race horse.

WINS AT FIRST ASKING.

In the early spring of 1888, Bryant took his chestnut gelding, then a two-year-old, down to Nashville and there are few living who can recall Proctor Knott's first start. It was in the West Side Stakes at the old Cumberland Park track. When the youngsters were lined up at the post, Proctor Knott was a bit fractious. Jockey Stoval, the famous negro rider, was astride him. Before the field could be sent on its way Proctor Knott got across the inner rail and had to be freed. When released the colt broke in front and, holding his advantage, won in a canter by two lengths.

His next start was in the Alexander Stakes at Louisville, which he won easily. Sam Bryant then took Proctor Knott to Chicago, where he defeated all the best two-year-olds in the West in the Kenwood Stakes at Washington Park.

From the West the veteran turfman journeyed to the East with the long-legged chestnut, which had been entered by his breeder, Gen. W. B. Harding, of Tennessee, in all the eastern stakes, especially the Junior Champion and the Futurity. With him he brought along the negro rider "Pike" Barnes, who was considered in those days almost an equal of Isaac Murphy. Negro riders in those days were the best in racing. Proctor Knott's first essay in the East was in the Junior Champion Stakes at Monmouth Park. He won handily from the best two-year-olds on the eastern circuit and thereby enriched his owner $20,785. This was a lot of money at that time for Sam Bryant. The next heard of Proctor Knott was at Saratoga, where he won the Equity Stakes.

PROCTOR KNOTT'S FIRST FUTURITY.

Then came the first Futurity on Monday, September 3, at Sheepshead Bay. There were fourteen starters. Proctor Knott was the favorite at 7 to 5. It was run out of the Futurity course, which brought fame and fortune to many afterward. When the field rounded the bend into the straightaway, Galen was in front, followed by Proctor Knott and Salvator. Galen tired when the real racing began and Proctor Knott and Salvator fought out the finish, the former getting the verdict by a half length. The time was 1:15⅕. That was fairly good time for the Sheepshead Bay track in those days. The race further enriched Sam Bryant $40,900. This meant a fortune for the veteran turfman, whose colors carried a game cock on the jockey's back.

Sam Bryant brought Proctor Knott back to Louisville in the fall of 1888 and the homage paid the colt by the natives was in every respect equal to that paid to any other horse which has proved a champion; in fact, that given Proctor Knott was a little more so, for his owner, a poor man, was known to hove won a fortune with him. The little stable back of the house where Sam Bryant lived. out near Churchill Downs, is still standing and persons came not only from the city but for miles around to see the greatest "race hoss" since Ten Broeck. Sam Bryant had been a soldier of fortune for years, but had failed to "lay by" any of the world's goods. With the money won by Proctor Knott he bought an entire block lying adjacent to Churchill Downs, and on it built many cottages, which are standing now and bringing in a revenue to his heirs.

COULD ALWAYS BEAT SALVATOR.

Proctor Knott was an unfortunate three-year-old. He was defeated by a short head in the Kentucky Derby by Spokane, a western-bred horse. The history of that race is still famed in song and story. It was a close finish and many thought Proctor Knott had won it until the official placing. The veteran Tom Kiley rode Spokane and he kept his mount close to the rail during the long mile and a half route. Proctor Knott led all the way until a few feet of the finish. He set a fast pace, but inclined to bear out near the end and Kiley finishing on the rail got up to win with Spokane in the last strides. The time for the race, 2:34½, was extremely fast. That race evidently affected the heart of the big chestnut. Spokane again beat him in the Clark Stakes and the American Derby, run at Washington Park, Chicago, June 22, 1889. But in the Sheridan Stakes at Washington Park, July 4, a fortnight later, Proctor Knott reversed things and defeated Spokane by two lengths in a canter.

Proctor Knott's last race of importance was in the Omnibus Stakes at Monmouth Park, August 13, 1889, when he finished second to Longstreet. Salvator was third. Strange to say Proctor Knott beat Salvator in every race in which they met.

AQUEDUCT STAKE DATES

The Queens County Jockey Club meeting follows that at Belmont Park and the horses will move to the popular Aqueduct track next week, where the fall period of sport will be inaugurated on Thursday. Went to post at 2:15. At post 2 minutes. Start good and slow. Won driving; second and third the same. GILT FRINGE began slowly, but had a clear course for the entire race and, finishing fast, outfinished WISE DOVE in the final drive. The latter closed up gamely in the stretch, but was swerving out in the closing strides or she would have won. WEDGWOOD raced into the lead, but met with some interference from RUNMIC and tired. RUNMIC showed speed, but tired in the last eighth. JAMAICA BELLE was hard ridden, but could never improve her position.

Scratched—49798 Tamarisk, 112; 49391^{3}Thornhedge, 108; 49906 Bacchanalian, 105; 49654 San Pablo, 108; Playcany, 105.

Went to post at 3:45. At post 3 minutes. Start good and slow. Won easily; second and third driving. BUSY SIGNAL rushed into the lead quickly and, making the pace fast, drew away when challenged and won easing up. PILGRIM raced in nearest pursuit of the leader all the way and moved up menacingly in the stretch, but swerved across the entire width of the track, losing much ground. ON WATCH was saved in the early running, but could not improve his position when called on for a final effort. DAMASK ran a good race.

Scratched—(49581)Afternoon, 107.

Overweights—Pilgrim, 2½ pounds.

49986 FIFTH RACE—1 1-8 Miles. (Sept. 1, 1919—1:50⅕—4—118.) Purse $1,618. 3-year-olds and upward. Claiming. Net value to winner $1,318; second, $200; third, $100.

LOST ONE OF BEST FRIENDS

Death of W. K. Vanderbilt Deprives Racing of an Influence Exerted Here as Well as in France.

(BY C. J. FITZ GERALD.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., September 4.—When William K. Vanderbilt died racing lost one of its best friends, and while the bulk of his activities in connection with the turf were in France, the influence he exerted on the sport was felt in the United States through his contact with his fellow members of The Jockey Club and others actively engaged in the breeding and development of the thoroughbred.

Mr. Vanderbilt was among the first Americans to give the French an opportunity of seeing the type of thoroughbred the United States was producing, and the American strains of blood imported by him had a great part in the phenomenal successes achieved by animals bred at Haras du Quesnay. For many years the Vanderbilt horses won more money than those of any other owner, and the greatest classics of the French turf were among the achievements that helped to make his horses one of the chiefest sources of pleasure to this sportsman who was least understood by the masses in his own country.

Mr. Vanderbilt gave to the development of his racing stable that same clarity of vision which made his judgment in business affairs almost uncanny, and he was proud of the fact that many of his best horses had good stout old-fashioned strains of American blood in their pedigrees. One of his earliest American favorites was the black horse Halma, a son of Hanover and Julia L., by Longfellow. This horse cost $30,000, and viewed by foreign standards his pedigree was not fashionable. He was descended, however, from families which had done things on the race track, and Mr. Vanderbilt had faith in him. Halma sired Oversight, a winner of 632,160 francs for Mr. Vanderbilt, from a daughter of Isinglass. Oversight has in turn won distinction as a sire, while American mares by Disguise, Luke Blackburn, Bramble, Ben Brush, Rayon d'Or, Commando, Mortemer, Himyar and other sires have together with their daughters produced innumerable winners in the white and black colors, which have long been popular at all the prominent French courses.

Few of those who saw Mr. Vanderbilt at intervals on American race courses knew of the distaste he had for display. His greatest pleasure came in the companionship of a few close friends with whom he viewed the horses in the paddocks. He was a keen student of pedigrees and had an eye for a good horse. His delight at inspecting Hourless for the first time was evident. He had owned and raced Negofol, the colt's sire, and was eager to see the first of his get to be brought to this country. The brown whirlwind was making his first start. Major Belmont thought he had a good colt, and Sam Hildreth, silent as an Indian, was adjusting the saddle when Mr. Vanderbilt and his party came along. His analysis of the colt was critical and accurate as he prophesied success for him, saying among other things, "A better looking horse than his sire at the same age. He must run with his breeding and conformation, and afterwards he ought to succeed in the stud."

In the early days of racing around New York the bulk of the officials were chosen from the ranks of gentleman sportsmen. They started the horses, timed the races and served as judges. During the early days of the Coney Island Jockey Club, of which Mr. Vanderbilt was the chief stockholder, he was frequently seen in the timer's stand and his name appears as an official in old volumes of the Spirit of the Times.

ABOUT NEGOFOL AND OTHERS

His Value to Our Breeding Dependent on His Ability to Sire Stayers—Lessons from Other Importations.

(BY SALVATOR.)

One of the most interesting of the recent contributions of "Exile" to Daily Racing Form was that in which he presented the tabulated pedigree of Negofol, with accompanying comment. It was particularly interesting to me because of what "Exile" took care to stress—namely, the fact that Negofol "comes from a great staying line." If I may venture the opinion, it is such horses as this that we need in America more than any others—and that France, rather than England, seems just at present a better place from which to import them.

I do not mention Australia, because, while we concede the prowess of the Antipodean thoroughbred as a stayer and weight-carrier, our traffic with those far lands is so infrequent and uncertain that it scarcely enters into the equation. Our breeders almost invariably revert to Europe for stallions and mares, and seldom, indeed, have made any requisition from the "under side of the world." Perhaps if they did this oftener they would be doing well. Neither Darebin nor Sir Modred appeared to achieve the success for which the late J. B. Haggin hoped when he brought them to Rancho del Paso, now over thirty years ago. Sir Modred did the better as a sire of winners and one at least of his get occupies a place upon that ultra-select list of America's winners of $100,000 or more—Tournament, with $107,407 to his credit. There was also Dr. Hasbrouck, one of the most brilliant sprinters of his day—the early 'nineties. Both these horses came from the same maternal family, the third dam of each being Magnetta, by Mahomet; next dam old Minerva Anderson, so famous as a matron back in the 'fifties and 'sixties; next dam by Sir Charles; and next—and, oh horrors!—LAST dam, "a famous quarter mare by Bess's Brimmer." Mr. Haggin had scads and oodles of royally bred matrons at Rancho del Paso, "pur sang" to the ultimate degree—but from none of them did Sir Modred beget any such runners as those which came from this shortest of all the short-pedigreed native families. One can imagine how any well-regulated "pur sang" breeder would turn shudderingly away from the Minerva Anderson tribe and such other mongrel scions of the "tall and uncut." Yet on many notable occasions did Tournament and Dr. Hasbrouck show a distant pair of heels to struggling sprigs of "pur sang" that finished far up the track behind them.

Tournament, the best son of Sir Modred's, was a son of Plaything, by Alarm, and here enters a curious sequence of facts. Darebin, which accompanied Sir Modred from the Antipodes to California, never sired either a Tournament or a Dr. Hasbrouck. But he did beget a daughter named Emma C., that was a rather indifferent performer, but which, when mated with Domino, a son of Himyar, he a son of that same sire Alarm, produced Commando, undoubtedly the most extraordinary progenitor, his early death considered, that America has ever seen. This it will be observed when the blood of Alarm was blended with that of Sir Modred and Darebin; in each instance it produced remarkable results. Perhaps there is no particular "lesson" in this, but it is something that cannot but make the student of blood combinations pause and ponder.

SPRINTERS NOT STAYERS.

Another curious thing is this—that while Sir Modred and Darebin were both renowned at home as cup winners, in this country their blood has been most prominent in the pedigrees of horses of, on the whole, a different description. To be sure, Sir Modred's son Tournament could get over a good bit of ground—he was a Realization winner—but his class "for what he could do" was not so high as that of the sprinter Dr. Hasbrouck. While, as we all know, it is intense speed, above all things, that marks the Commando tribe. The ability to run fast, rather than to stay far, has always marked this line, with some exceptions, and it goes back, of course, generations beyond Commando and, most particularly to his grandsire, Himyar, son of Alarm, and to Alarm himself. When the blood of Darebin was crossed in it did nothing in particular to alter this.

Returning to Negofol "Exile" calls attention to the fact that his granddam Nebuleuse is by Manoel, a son of Flageolet, the sire of Rayon d'Or. Continuing, I may note that the fourth dam, Navarre, is by Ventre St. Gris ("Ventre St. Gris" was the battle cry of Henry of Navarre, he of the white plume), son of Gladiator, and the fifth dam, Noelle, by The Baron; and that it was Fitz-Gladiator, son of Gladiator, that sired Compeigne, the sire of Mortemer, while the dam of Mortemer was Comtesse, by The Baron or Nuncio. Now, Rayon d'Or and Mortemer were the only two first-class French horses that ever came to America and stayed here. We had Adam for a couple of seasons only and, under inauspicious circumstances, and it is open to question if Adam, good horse as he was, was anything like so good as were Rayon d'Or or Mortemer. Remember, that Mortemer took up 151 pounds and won the Prix des Pavillions at two miles, beating among others Dutch Skater, which carried only 128. As for Rayon d'Or, his capacities as a long-distance performer were extraordinary. It is therefore fortunate that, seeing each of them achieved such success at the stud in this country, so much of their blood should be returned to us through Negofol, which horse, as "Exile" clearly defines, is otherwise bred to stay "till the cows come home," could and did stay, and has shown his ability to sire stayers.

CURIOUS FATE OF THE ST. SIMONS.

The only thing about him to cause doubts is his St. Simon top-line. It seems indeed strange to find oneself making such a remark. But the curious lack of success that has attended the St. Simons in America, together with the fact that the family, with the sole exception of the Desmond branch, seems to be rapidly fading away in England, prompts the thought. A decade ago it would have been accounted heresy or high treason, or both, to utter such a sentiment, for at that time it was the idea that he St. Simon top-line was desined to submerge all others. The way in which it has petered out is one of those strange phases of breeding that baffle the experts. It would look now as if St. Simon was fated, in the final audit, to occupy a position in history somewhat analogous to that of Lexington in America—a phenomenal sire of winners that failed to found a correspondingly great family in the male line and whose blood is most valuable as a collateral element.

Now of course we know why Lexington occupies this position. All the experts have told us in the most convincing way. It was because of his lack of "pur sang" and "figures." There was the fatal flaw that doomed him. But St. Simon has "pur sang" to disseminate among the heathen and figures enough to sink a ship. What then? Well, let the experts come across with the explanation. As for me, it is my sneaking idea that there was in him, and is in his family, a tendency to washiness and overplus of nerve-force that has proved a source of weakness to progenitorship in successive generations. The tribe has not had the bulk and brawn and mental balance that, as a rule, distinguish those of the greatest family builders. In this respect it has not shown to the same advantage as that of Bend Or, which seems to possess less glitter but more substance. Or so, at least, it appears to me.

Ten years from now it will be both interesting and instructive to compare the results, in so far as the enrichment of America's thoroughbred resources is concerned, of the careers of Negofol and Prince Palatine, which is being brought to our shores along with him by Mr. Edward Simms. The Prince is also a St. Simon horse in male line. Which will do most for us? It is to be hoped that both will "live long and prosper." Prince Palatine will probably be the more popular of the two—but will he prove the better?

FIFTEEN YEARLINGS AT NAPA STUD

Band of Young Runnymedes in Preparation for Next Year of Unusual Promise.

(BY F. L. McKENNEY.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 9.—Under the able tutelage of trainer C. W. ("Bill") Carroll fifteen highly bred yearlings, products of Adolph B. Spreckels' famous Napa Stock Farm, are being given their primary education as race horses every morning at the picturesque home course. The youngsters are filling out and developing fast under the carefully prepared course of training that has been mapped out for them. Carroll, who has been handling young thoroughbreds for Mr. Spreckels for a score of years with marked success, unhesitatingly says this year's band is by far the best ever bred at Napa. He is confident there is more than one Dr. Leggo or Sangallo in the band and, with a fair measure of good fortune when the "babies" get to racing, it seems his hopes will be realized.

It's been amply proved by the performances of the progeny of the Voter stallion Runnymede last year and in the present year that Mr. Spreckels made a "ten strike" in acquiring that sturdy young horse. Of the yearlings at the farm twelve are by Runnymede and the other three by the Solitaire II. horse Voorhees, well remembered as a racer of good class on eastern tracks. The Runnymedes all possess speed, and that in plenty, and indications are they will go on when asked. Last year the handsome son of Voter and Running Stream, by Domino, had five sons and daughters at the races—his first—and every one won. This year ten of his two-year-olds faced the barrier and six were returned winners. The remaining four met with reverses, or they, too, undoubtedly would have done something worth while.

The fillies predominate among the yearlings, as there are nine as against six colts. The Runnymedes are uniformly of good bone and substance, well muscled, deep in the heart, with well set on head and, best of all, of the sweetest disposition. Both trainer Carroll and jockey Jack Metcalf, who is galloping the youngsters, say they never had a more pleasing band to handle. All the horsemen that have seen the youngsters agree California has produced few horses that "fill the eye" in every particular as do these yearlings. All look the part of the aristocrats they are, with not a plebeian among them.

HIGHEST TYPE OF THOROUGHBRED.

A beautifully turned chestnut colt by Runnymede, dam the Salvation mare Salvatrix, is of the highest type of thoroughbred. He has height, length, fine forehead, intelligent eye, remarkably good shoulder and all the other characteristics one associates with a real race horse. His gallops have shown, too, that he is a runner, as are all the sons and daughters of Salvatrix, one of the most successful matrons at Napa Stock Farm. The mare is in an adjoining paddock to that of her yearling son with a trim young miss by her side, her ninth foal. Salvatrix is by Salvator's son Salvation, dam the Brutus mare Installatrix, and in her veins runs the best English and American racing blood. In other years she foaled the winners Madge F., Savilla, Harbard, Venetia and others. This year the speedy two-year-old filly Runatrix won for her on New York tracks.

A sister to the frequent winner Madeline Lillian, being by Runnymede—Napa Girl, by Solitaire II., is a filly built on handsome lines. In well formed neck and stoutly knit frame, she bears a remarkable resemblance to her daddy. Then there is a well put up filly, bay in color, also by Runnymede, dam the Big Chief mare Abbas, that promises much, both by her distinctly racing lines and her fast gallops. She is a half-sister to the two-year-old filly Charlotte C., which has won recently on Canadian tracks. The matron Abbas has an especially warm spot in Mr. Spreckels' heart, as she is a daughter of Candid, a mare that was imported from Australia and won at four miles in his colors.

Daughters of the Star Shoot mares Pourquoi and Micco are "pals" in one of the spacious paddocks at the farm. They possess that intangible something usually termed "quality." These fillies are sisters to a number of winners. The Pourquoi filly is a sister to the two-year-old winner Runquoi and half-sister to Legotal, while the Micco miss is a sister to the two-year-old winner Runmic. Runnymede's blood blends just right with that of daughters of Star Shoot, as his second dam Dancing Water is by Isonomy, the sire of Isinglass, sire of Star Shoot.

The breeding of the yearlings follows:

Chestnut colt, by Runnymede—Salvatrix, by Salvation.
Chestnut colt, by Runnymede—Zafra, by Solitaire II.
Chestnut colt, by Runnymede—Olathe, by Solitaire II.
Brown colt, by Runnymede—Hymir, by Dr. Leggo.
Brown colt, by Voorhees—Meana, by Puryear D.
Bay colt, by Voorhees—Breslau, by Uncle.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Pourquoi, by Star Shoot.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Nanna, by Puryear D.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Micco, by Star Shoot.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Ventura, by Puryear D.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Lady Atheling, by Atheling.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Handsome Florrie, by Handsome.
Bay filly, by Voorhees—Egeria, by Clifford.
Bay filly, by Runnymede—Abbas, by Big Chief.
Chestnut filly, by Runnymede—Napa Girl, by Solitaire II.

TETRATEMA FASTER THAN DIADEM

Clearly Demonstrated in Their Race at Weight for Age at Goodwood.

Among the few bright features of the Goodwood week the duel between Tetratema and Diadem alone made the meeting memorable. While being a winner of the One Thousand Guineas, Diadem might not pass muster perhaps with exacting critics as being of higher than the best handicap rank, and between that and the classic degree there is a sharply dividing line.

At weight for age and sex Tetratema was found always just too good for Diadem, and although he may have liked the soft going the least of the two, he won through being a naturally quicker beginner. The mare is now at a time of life when most good ones are retired to another sphere, and if still able to display weight-carrying ability such as makes her appear to be as good as ever she was at the judge's end, it was seen in the King George Stakes that Tetratema had reaped a big advantage in the early stages, and such he certainly would not have done had he been paired with Irish Elegance as we knew that horse last year.

At three-quarters, however, Tetratema is the champion of the time at weight for age on sound going, and he might beat all comers under the same conditions up to a mile. In the Eclipse, Allenby led him for that distance, but I fancy it was only by the courtesy of Carslake, who made up his mind some time ago that the other colt was deficient in stamina, like his own mount, and played to beat him for speed.

Captain Machell used to say that every horse's best distances could be measured to the length of a walking-stick, granted, of course, the test was a true one; and with Tetratema's distance now being so clearly revealed it would seem that he should never again suffer defeat, for we may not expect him to be on the tracks more than another season.

The wonder, no doubt, to some people, by the way, is that Diadem is being raced for so long, and according to all accounts she has not finished yet. Although she has seen so much hard work she seems to be of more robust constitution than was Sceptre. The latter's fires had paled during her final year. She would try to come with that long run, but there was no life in it.

Diadem's latest effort when about the same age carried with it all her characteristic dash until she was eased just below the judge's box, and her heart has continued in racing for the reason that she has throughout been ridden with a discretion worthy of a Tom Cannon or a John Watts, who always believed that a generous mare should never be made to feel the whip.—Manchester Sporting Chronicle.

DEVONSHIRE PARK STATISTICS

Over $100,000 in Overnight Purses Distributed During Seven Days of Most Successful Racing.

Over $100,000 was distributed among the horsemen during the second meeting of the year at Devonshire Park, which was held from September 1 to September 8. While this in itself is a splendid showing, the fact that it had no rich closed events to help swell the total, not a stake race being on the program, makes it all the more remarkable. That the Western Racing Association made no mistake in its policy was seen in the large fields engaged in the racing and the immense crowds that witnessed it. Of the horsemen participating in the meeting four of them won over $5,000 each, J. Dundee first with $8,000, followed by F. Dahnken with $7,750, J. Arthur $5,400 and G. H. Abbott $5,300. The list of the leading money-winning owners, who won $500 or more each, is as follows:
